

The Same Company Certifies America's Voting Machines & the Lottery Systems That Got Rigged for $24M

July 9, 2026

One lab. Two systems that control power and wealth. And a documented, massive failure that should terrify every voter in America.

□ This is the connection that should stop every American cold.

SLI Compliance – a division of Gaming Laboratories International (GLI) – is one of only two federally accredited labs in the United States authorized to test and certify electronic voting systems used in elections nationwide. (The other is PRO V&V).

They perform the exact same rigorous testing on both voting machines and lottery/gaming systems:

- Source code review
- Security and vulnerability analysis
- Functional testing
- Official certification

GLI/SLI has certified systems from Dominion, ES&S, Hart InterCivic, and others deployed across dozens of states.

The same company also certifies the random number generators, draw software, and security systems for state lotteries and the global gambling industry.

The Scandal That Proves the Danger

Between 2005 and 2017, the largest lottery fraud in U.S. history unfolded: the Hot Lotto Scandal.

Eddie Tipton – Director of Information Security for the Multi-State Lottery Association – inserted just two lines of malicious code into the random number generator software.

That software had already been tested and certified by GLI.

Tipton deliberately designed the backdoor to survive their standard source code reviews and testing procedures.

Result? He and his accomplices rigged jackpot drawings across multiple states and stole more than $24 million.

GLI did not catch it.

The Direct Parallel That Should Shock You

Same certifying lab. Same testing standards. Same high-stakes software environment handling random selection and tabulation.

If a sophisticated insider could completely bypass GLI's certification process in lottery systems...

What did they miss in the voting systems they certify for our elections?

Or worse – what could a determined actor hide or enable?

Your lottery ticket and your ballot are both “protected” by the same gatekeeper.

This is not speculation. This is documented, court-proven history.

One company stands between trust and catastrophe in two of the most critical systems in America.

The integrity of our elections deserves far better scrutiny than a single lab with a proven blind spot in the exact domain it oversees.

America's vote must not rest on the same foundation that failed its lottery systems.

We've demanded answers. We got none.

We've demanded transparency. We got none.

We've demanded to run our own election. We got denied.

American, it's time to take back our elections, regardless of the obstacles.

and GET BUSY. We are not accepting 'NO' for an answer.
