Some Utah 16-year-olds sent primary election ballots by mistake

by Kyle Harvey | Tue, June 16th 2020, 7:26 PM MDT

In Utah, 16- and 17-year-olds can “pre-register” to vote when they file paperwork for a driver license.

Under normal circumstances, the system tags the name as ineligible at first and then is programmed to change its status on the driver’s 18th birthday. But an error last week caused 150 new licensed drivers in several counties to be given active status right away.

“Very small glitch and I’m glad we caught it early,” said Justin Lee, the state’s director of elections.

SALT LAKE CITY (KUTV) — Local and state elections officials say a state computer system is to blame for a glitch that sent ballots for the upcoming primary election to dozens of teens who’d recently applied for driver licenses.

Cast your ballot. Ask for assistance if needed.

What is valid identification?

Acceptable ID includes valid:

- Utah Driver's License
- U.S. Passport
- Tribal ID Card
- Utah Concealed Carry Permit

OR

- TWO documents that have your name and provide evidence of residence (such as a utility bill and a bank statement)

The poll worker will provide you with a provisional ballot if you do not have valid ID, you are not found in the official voting register, or your right to vote is challenged. Complete the provisional ballot affidavit and then follow the instructions above to vote.

You may check the status of your provisional ballot after Election Day by visiting vote.utah.gov.

But why were these names:

[redacted]

added to the list of voters sometime between may and june?

if they really voted why were they not there 10 days after the election if they did not vote why were they added?

Figure 2 comparing 5/3 to 6/10 for the March Primary – 2 duplicates but that might be OK, as it may be possible with suffixes, but there were also 4 names added over 2 months after the election.

Brazos County, TX – Unusual increase in registered voters

Brazos County grows to more than 120,000 registered voters, deadline for voter registration Monday

The deadline is coming up fast to vote for the November Election

By Clay Falls

Published: Oct. 2, 2020 at 7:01 PM CDT

BRYAN, Texas (KBTX) - If you want to vote in the November election and haven't registered yet you're running out of time.

The deadline is Monday, October 5.

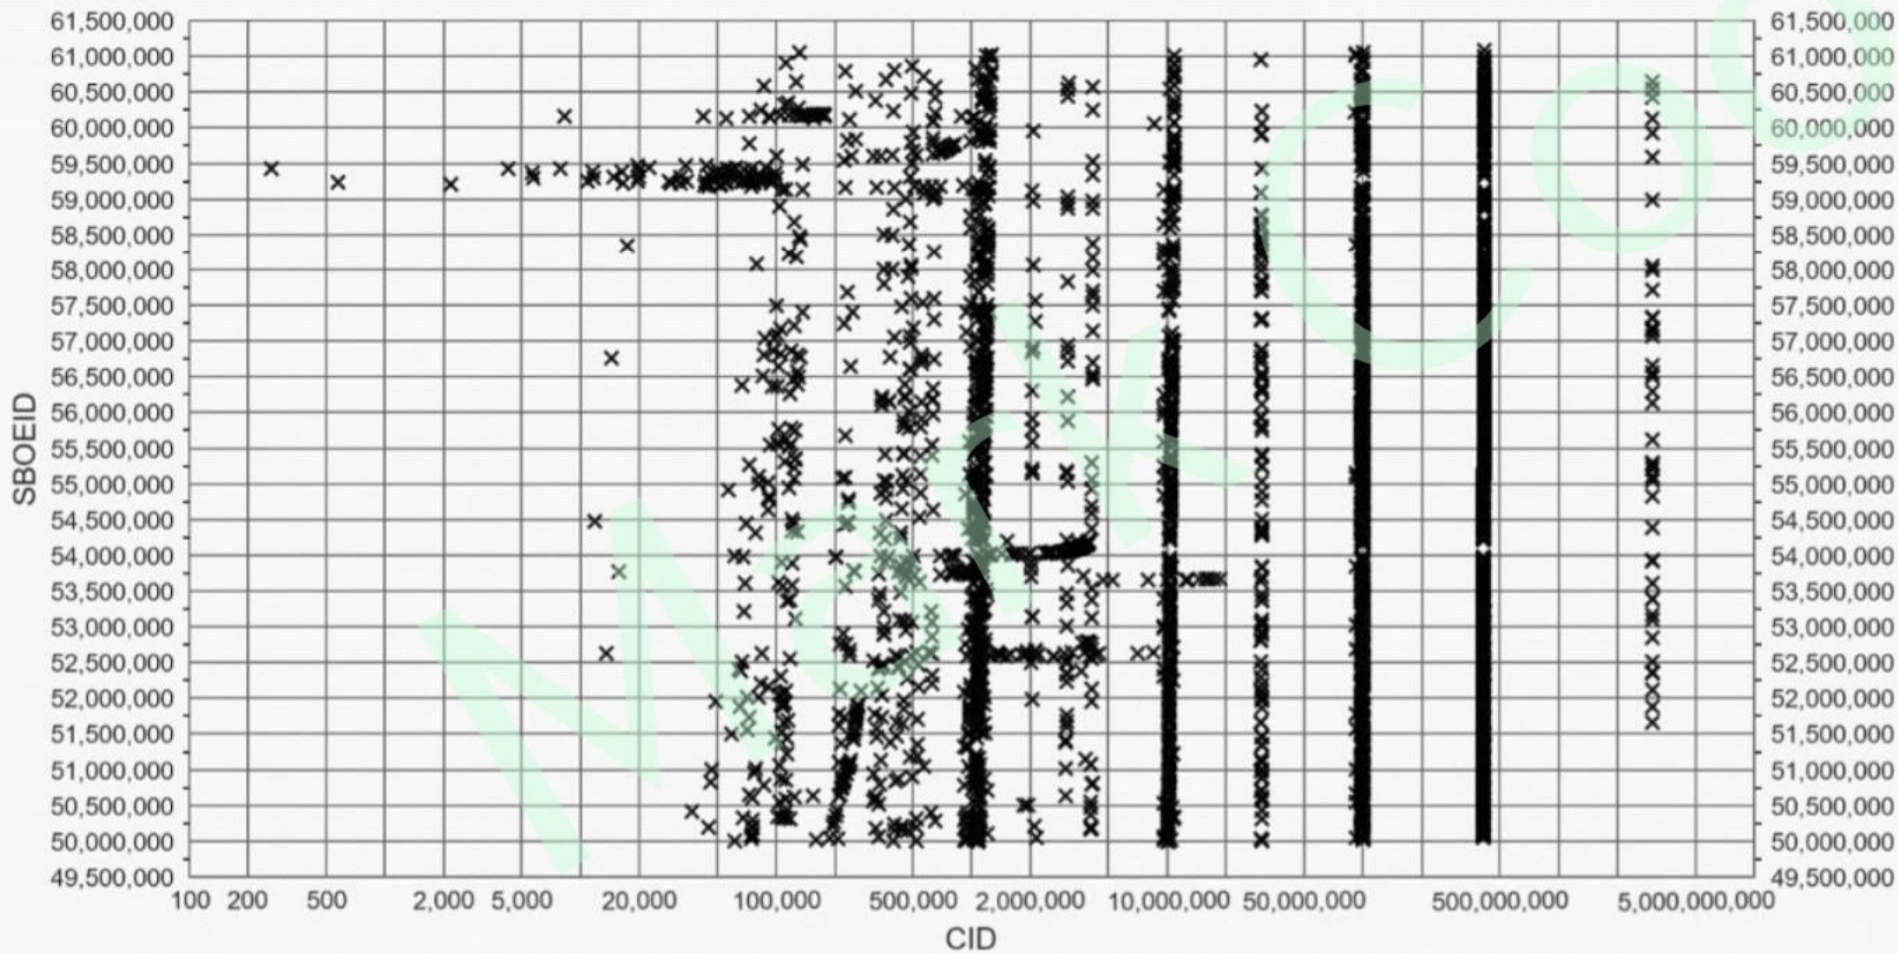

Brazos County now has a new record of more than 120,000 registered voters. Elections Administrator Trudy Hancock said Friday they've seen thousands of new voters added in recent weeks. The deadline to register is Monday and you'll need to know your driver's license number or the last four digits of your social security number. You don't have to present an ID to register.

"Every year we see people show up to the polls wanting to cast a ballot and they can't because they haven't registered and that's why it's very important to register before Monday," said David Hilburn, Chair of the Republican Party of Brazos County. He said their office is getting lots of calls.

"It's been a big uptick of people registering and whether that's just because of the presidential year or whether it's because of this specific election I don't know. You know as our population grows, it's natural to get people to move in. The numbers are going to go up," Hilburn added.

Brazos County, TX – Election ‘mistakes’

The issue is now being investigated by the Secretary of State's office. (KBTX)

By Caleb Britt

Published: Oct. 31, 2022 at 1:43 PM CDT

BRYAN, Texas (KBTX) - The Brazos County Elections Office has mailed 76 new mail-in ballots to voters who received ballots reflecting their old precincts. A total of 80 Brazos County residents received ballots reflecting their precincts before redistricting last, but four have now voted in person. The issue was brought to light Friday, Oct. 28, after a voter contacted the elections office saying they received the wrong ballot.

The issue is now being investigated by the Secretary of State's office since the database used to send out mail-in ballots is generated through it. Hancock said her team has gone through all 3,001 ballot by mail applications that have been approved, and no others besides the original 80 are inaccurate.

The 76 voters who haven't voted in person should receive new ballots in the next couple of days, according to Hancock.

"If you choose to vote in person instead of that ballot by mail, please take that ballot with you to the polling place," Hancock said. "You have to surrender that paper ballot at the voting facility to be able to vote in person."

For those who don't have their new ballots but want to vote in person now, you'll have to vote with a provisional ballot, according to Hancock. That ballot will not be counted immediately but will go to the early voting ballot board who'll look at it to ensure the mail-in ballot has not been returned. If that's the case, the provisional ballot will be accepted and counted.

For those expecting mail-in ballots, you can track it here.

VICTOR JOECKS: County lowers 'confidence level' for ballot signatures

A mail-in ballot for the primary election, (Hali Bernstein Saylor/Boulder City Review)

By Victor Joecks Las Vegas Review-Journal

October 20, 2020 - 9:00 pm

Don't miss the big stories. Like us on Facebook.

The Clark County Election Department lowered the factory settings on its signature verification machine. So much for matching signatures as an impenetrable guard against election fraud.

That score is a “confidence level,” said Anthony Paiz, vice president of field services of Runbeck Election Services, which makes the machine. Paiz said his company recommends changes to that score are “done with bipartisan” buy-in.

That didn't happen in Clark County, where officials downgraded the confidence level to a 40 out of 100.

“To determine what score to use, we ran tests of the system and concluded that 40 would accept all the signatures that are obvious matches,” the spokesman said.

When asked if the “40” confidence level allowed inaccurate ballots to get through, the spokesman didn't respond by deadline. Registrar Joe Gloria refused to answer questions on Monday.

This is terrifying. Clark County is potentially the swing county in the swing state. It has tens of thousands of ballots floating around, legalized ballot harvesting and downgraded signature verification.

Did Clark County, Nevada use a defective signature-matching computer system in the 2020 election?

NO

In 2020, Clark County used a two-step process to verify voter signatures on mail-in ballots. The Agilis computerized scanning system reviewed signatures, accepting about 30%; additional human verification was used for the remaining 70%.

Republicans filed lawsuits challenging the county's signature verification process, which ultimately failed in both state and federal court.

A central claim of the lawsuits was that the Agilis system had a lower sensitivity setting than desired and should have accepted even fewer than 30% of signatures. Election officials testified that Agilis tested well at the setting used and that the county's ballot rejection rate was in line with the statewide signature rejection rate.

“The machine used in Clark County to verify signatures is called Agilis. And earlier this year, Clark County officials announced that they would need to lower the recommended factory tolerance settings on the Agilis machine in order to capture the Nevada Department of Motor Vehicles' signature used to verify mail-in ballots. To match a ballot signature, the Agilis machine requires a clear signature on file with election officials that is scanned at a minimum resolution of 200 d.p.i. Nevertheless, the bulk of Clark County's signature files come from the Nevada DMV, which doesn't even have the capability of scanning signatures at that resolution. Knowing this, Clark County election officials still lowered the signature match threshold in order to capture blurry signatures and speed through the counting process. However, Artificial Intelligence experts and signature verification experts agree that changing the factory settings in this way will largely render the system useless.”

NBC News asked the two other major manufacturers how many of their tabulators with modems were currently in use. Hart said that it has approximately 1,600 such tabulators in use in 11 counties in Michigan. Dominion did not respond to numerous requests from NBC News for their sales numbers.

'Vulnerable to hacking'

With the 2020 presidential election only ten months away, Appel and Skoglund believe all modems can and should be removed from election systems.

“Modems in voting machines are a bad idea,” said Appel. “Those modems that ES&S [and other manufacturers] are putting in their voting machines are network connections, and that leaves them vulnerable to hacking by anybody who can connect to that network.”

The Key Objectives for this report were answered by this examination:

1. To determine whether D-Suite-implemented security requirements comply with the 2002 Voting System Standards (VSS)
  - a. Uncertified software was used on the system rendering the certification of the entire system and all elections conducted with it, Invalid.
  - b. Security protections required by law were almost completely absent
    - i. Other than a userID and an easily guessed or bypassed password, no authentication was required
    - ii. The firewall rule for access to the election database, ballots and results was unrestricted to any IP address in the world
    - iii. Together with the firewall rule, Microsoft SQL Server Management Studio (SSMS) enabled complete access to the entire election databases – not just to the 2020 election but to the elections of June 2019 through May 25, 2021.
    - iv. A self-signed encryption certificate was used introducing the potential for a man-in-the-middle attack
    - v. Thirty-five wireless devices (802.11, Wi-Fi) were installed inside election equipment and an additional wireless device was identified in a connected printer
    - vi. Any or all of these wireless devices could have connected to the Internet via the building wireless facilities
    - vii. “Purging” (deletion) of critical Audit Log data, as specified by DVS and directed by the Secretary of State<sup>75</sup>, destroyed all records of connection to the Internet or elsewhere, all record of user activity, including programs run by these users, errors, and any record of the addition or deletion of votes and the alteration of election results.
  - c. EACH of the compliance failures identified in 1.a. and 1.b. above are clear violations of the law.

A candidate in Georgia who appeared to get few Election Day votes was actually in first place.

The discrepancy in a race for a county-level board of commissioners seat was blamed on a series of technical errors.

 Share full article

The candidate, Michelle Long Spears, was shortchanged by 3,792 votes in the District 2 primary for the Board of Commissioners in DeKalb County, Ga., that was held on May 24, according to newly-certified results released on Friday.

After conducting a hand count over the Memorial Day weekend and auditing those returns, election officials determined that they had drastically underreported the vote totals for Ms. Spears.

She received 43 percent of the vote, not 24 percent, as reported by an unofficial and incomplete election summary posted on May 25 on the county's website. As the top vote-getter, Ms. Spears qualified for a June 21 runoff against the second-place candidate, Lauren Alexander.

“I hope that this never happens to another candidate, in another race ever again,” Ms. Spears said. “It has been a nightmare.”

Election officials attributed the discrepancy to a series of technical and human errors, which they characterized as being isolated to the primary race.

They said that the problems, which they described as a computer programming error, began when a fourth candidate withdrew from the race late — 135 votes were cast for that former candidate. A redistricting error compounded the situation, according to the county.

CHEROKEE COUNTY, Kans. — We’re learning more on the events that lead to a mix-up in a Cherokee County Commissioner race.

The Cherokee County Clerk says an audit was done this past Friday and officials noticed a discrepancy that showed the numbers were correct, they were just under the wrong candidate. Image prints on the thumb drive for “County Commissioner District One” switched the numbers for incumbent Myra Frazier, and challenger Lance Nichols. A full hand re-count was done twice to ensure the accurate results of the vote and found Myra Frazier to be the true winner of the race.

The election software company has taken full responsibility for the error. The County Clerk just wants to ensure voters their vote will always count.

“I want to be as transparent as I can possibly be to the citizens of Cherokee County. And, I don’t want them to ever have to think that there’s anything to worry about when it comes to elections in this office,” said Rebecca Brassart, Cherokee County Clerk.

The County Clerk is now going through all of the thumb drives to make sure all the other races in the county and at the state-level are correct.

Conclusions

While the 4.14.A.1 build of the Democracy Voting System proved to mitigate four previously enumerated vulnerabilities, multiple medium and high vulnerabilities still exist within the suite of systems. A remote user could leverage most of the vulnerabilities across the network to obtain information about the system, voter ballots and results, or gain remote access to the system.

If remote access is gained, recovery of user credentials through system memory (RAM) analysis could be executed and used to modify the backend database of the EMS Server.

County Completion Report

The majority of counties in Utah now vote by mail. Because any batch of ballots could include voters from multiple precincts, it is no longer helpful to track the number of precincts reporting to know when all votes have been counted.

This page will indicate when each county has completed counting ballots on election night and each subsequent day when ballots are counted and results are released. For additional information on results displayed on this website please click here.

Utah Legislature found no evidence of fraud after election audit

KPCW | By Andrea Buchanan

Published December 14, 2022 at 3:52 PM MST

Some officials in the Summit County Republican Party claimed mail-in ballots during the midterm elections would not result in a free and fair election. Now an audit of the Lieutenant Governor's office found no signs of systematic problems.

Utah has conducted mail-in voting for more than a decade and this year's midterm elections were no different. What was different this year were questions from some officials about the integrity of the voting process.

Last December, Utah's legislative leaders ordered an audit of the 2022 election. That deep dive into the election process and Lieutenant Governor Deidre Henderson's office found no evidence of fraud, widespread errors or systematic problems during this year's midterm elections.

Furthermore, auditors found that security systems already in place would foil any attempts to tamper with ballots.

Henderson said in a statement that the systems in place are the result of careful and deliberate efforts by the Legislature over many years to ensure that Utah voters have access to ballots, confidence in the security of elections and the ability to hold those who run elections accountable for their performance.

However, independent investigators pointed out several areas that need improvement, such as updating voter registration rolls and standardizing signature verification.

Summit County Clerk Eve Furse said she's very pleased that the legislative audit found that Utah's elections safeguards are in place and working.

Summit County Republican Party Chair Karen Ballash was vocal about election integrity during the midterms. In September, she emailed her party members claiming that mail-in ballots and machines wouldn't result in a free and fair process. Ballash did not respond to KPCW's request for comment.

Tim Gallagher is a Summit County Republican Party precinct captain. He said it's not surprising that the Legislature found no fraud. He said he has complete faith in the election process.

A poll watchdog group has asked the Bureau of Immigration (BI) to prevent 10 people from leaving the country for their alleged role in the controversial script change in the Comelec transparency server that receives precinct-level votes.

In a letter dated June 2, election watchdog "Mata sa Balota" urged BI Commissioner Ronaldo Geron to issue a hold departure order (HDO) against the following personalities:

For the second time this year, Tarrant County will have a new elections administrator.

Heider Garcia, elections manager in Placer County, Calif., has been hired to guide and oversee local elections.

He should join the county in mid-February to observe the March 6 primary election and help out as needed, Tarrant County Judge Glen Whitley said.

“We think he will be a good fit,” Whitley said.

Garcia will be sworn in as elections administrator after the primary.

The delay is to give him time to become a registered voter in Tarrant County, which Whitley said he must do before he can be sworn in.

He replaces Nathan Neblett, a Houston man who held the post for two weeks in January before county officials decided to “release” him from the post.

“We just decided it wasn’t going to be a good fit for us,” Whitley said at the time. “We decided to go in a different direction.”

New voting machines in Tarrant County

September 3, 2019

Tarrant County voters will be casting ballots on new machines for this year's Nov. 5 constitutional amendment election. County Commissioners recently signed off on an $11 million plan to buy this new equipment, part of Austin-based Hart InterCivic's Verity line.

These machines, approved for use by the Texas Secretary of State's office, include a paper trail.

Voters will use a touchscreen to review the ballot and make their choices. The machine will print a list of the candidates chosen. After reviewing votes on the sheet, voters must put their paper ballot into one of the scanners to formally cast their vote and drop it into the ballot box.

Tarrant County Elections Administrator Heider Garcia has asked the state to allow countywide vote centers — which would let voters cast ballots at any polling place in the county on Election Day — as soon as the November election.

Tarrant GOP Denies County Turned Blue, Makes Trumpian Claims of Irregularities

LAUREN DREWES DANIELS | DECEMBER 1, 2020 | 4:00AM

The Tarrant County GOP is quite agitated the county has been cast as “blue” after the Nov. 3 general election. As mail-in ballots trickled in after Election Day, the seesaw tipped ever so slightly Democratic under the weight of about 1,826 more votes cast for the Biden/Harris ticket than Trump/Pence. It’s not much, but this isn’t horseshoes.

The county hadn’t voted for a Democrat for president since 1964.

The Honorable GK Maenius
Tarrant County Administrator
100 East Weatherford St.
Fort Worth, Texas 76196

Gentlemen,

Please accept this letter as my formal resignation from the position of Elections Administrator for Tarrant County. My last day with the County will be June 23, 2023. This will allow sufficient time to complete all work related to the May 6 Joint Elections, any potential runoff elections in June and a smooth handover of the operation. It will be my utmost priority to guarantee operational continuity of the department before my departure.

GK, thank you for your leadership, your support, and your guidance in my time here. You believed in me and provided me all the tools I needed to do my job. I say to you what I said to Judge Glen Whitley when we canvassed the November 2022 election: "Thank you for your leadership, and for just letting elections officials do their job and stay out of politics. That means the world to us." When leadership respects the team's values and shows trust, members of the team become the best version of themselves. You know this, Judge Whitley knew it, and because of that, I leave Tarrant County a better man and a better professional. Thank you, GK.

Judge O'Hare, my formula to "administer a quality transparent election" stands on respect and zero politics; compromising on these values is not an option for me. You made it clear in our last meeting that your formula is different, thus, my decision to leave. I wish you the best; Tarrant County deserves that you find success.

Sincerely,

Heider Garcia

Heider Garcia, celebrated elections chief from Tarrant County, set to run elections in Dallas

Garcia will replace Michael Scarpello, who had led the elections department in Dallas since 2020.

BY NATALIA CONTRERAS, VOTEBEAT AND THE TEXAS TRIBUNE OCT. 18, 2023 UPDATED: 5 PM CENTRAL

OCT. 18, 2023

Heider Garcia, a lauded Texas election official who resigned as elections director in Tarrant County under political pressure last spring, is set to become Dallas County's next elections chief.

Garcia's first day will be Dec. 20, Dallas County officials said during an election commission meeting Wednesday.

The announcement comes two weeks after Michael Scarpello, who has been Dallas County elections administrator since 2020, submitted his resignation and said he'd be retiring after working in elections in various jurisdictions across the country for more than 20 years. Scarpello's last day will be Dec. 19.

"I am honored," Garcia said in a text message Wednesday, after his appointment. "I'll be very humble in my new role and work really hard to follow in Michael's footsteps. Dallas deserves the best and I intend to work with that goal in mind."

Garcia, one of the most respected elections directors in the state during his time in Tarrant, had been Tarrant County's elections administrator since 2018. Since former President Donald Trump began to make baseless allegations of fraud in connection with the outcome of the 2020 election, Tarrant County — the state's most populous swing county — has been at the center of unfounded election fraud conspiracies.

Garcia, who previously worked as a software engineer for the voting machine company Smartmatic in Venezuela, also became the subject of allegations from some voter fraud activists and Trump allies who claimed he'd "rigged" the Tarrant election. Fringe activists began posting Garcia's home address online. He faced harassment and racist death threats.

Disabled Utah voters are asking the state for e-voting

Voter Everette Bacon aims his phone camera at the door to Trolley Square so a phone-access guide can see the "Vote Here" signs and direct him to the polling place inside.

Blind Utahns and disability advocates are asking for more access to digital ballots after running into trouble at polling places.

Driving the news: Utah's primaries are set for Tuesday. Leading up to them, blind Utahns only have two ways to cast ballots.

- They can vote by mail with another person's assistance, which means they can't vote in secret.
- Or they can go to a polling place for an audio ballot — but navigating there may be difficult.
